

With the pandemic quietly fading, we are seeing many patients that have not fully recovered from covid illness. These post covid sequelae are related to prolonged immune dysregulation and constant Hypersensitivity reactions to previous triggers. The initiating event was a severe reaction to spike protein that went uncontrolled and resulted in an elevated allergic immunologic tone. This has also been shown to be perpetuated by viral bacteriophage activity in the gut of long covid patients. My presentation aims to bring understanding to the underlying mechanisms and direct treatment interventions, and has relevance to the vast array of vaccine injuries we are currently witnessing.
