WELCOME MESSAGE FROM JAY P, CHAIR OF CAWS2025

Welcome.

We are waiting for you with a great deal of anticipation. We are proud of our Place in the Sun, called home. We have amazing experiences waiting to be shared with our host of friends. May is a great month to visit Arizona. It's warm during the day and cool at night. Pools, hikes, horseback riding, drum circles and golf are just a few experiences you can partake in. But perhaps, the most memorable will be the Arizona sunsets. Make sure you share them with somebody.

Our house, for the event, is the beautiful Double Tree Resort in Scottsdale, Arizona. The rooms are spacious and have patios or balconies. The resort sits on 20 acres, and every room will be used for the Party. And guess what? It's all ours! Every person on site will be family. Scottsdale is world known for shopping, restaurants and site-seeing.

Our fellowship will be waiting with open arms (coming in for a hug)! Together, we will embrace this unlikely second chance at life. So please, come, visit us and allow us the privilege of rolling out the red carpet for you. All you have to do is get here. We will take care of the rest.

COMMITTEE CHAIR SPOTLIGHT

As the Chair of the Marathon Sub-committee for the upcoming 2025 World Convention, I am thrilled to share some exciting updates and plans with you. Together with an outstanding team of dedicated individuals, we're on a mission to redefine marathon meetings as not just a part of the convention but as a destination in themselves.

Our committee comprises passionate individuals who share a common vision: to create an environment where marathon meetings are not merely a scheduled activity but an experience that members eagerly anticipate. We recognize that these meetings are an integral part of the convention, offering a unique space for transformative conversations based on Cocaine Anonymous literature, particularly focusing on the invaluable insights from the C.A. 12 Step Companion Guide.

One of our key objectives is to infuse innovation and excitement into these marathon sessions. We want attendees to be drawn not only by the necessity of the meeting but by the anticipation of what each session will offer. To achieve this, we've been brainstorming and collaborating on innovative ideas.

One such idea that has generated considerable buzz within our committee is the concept of a free raffle at each meeting. Picture this: attendees have the opportunity to win free C.A. literature. It's not just about attending; it's about the potential to leave with resources that can further guide and support their recovery journey. The prospect of receiving valuable literature has ignited enthusiasm among our members and, we hope, will captivate the convention attendees as well.

Moreover, we're diligently working on curating meeting topics and discussions drawn directly from Cocaine Anonymous literature. These topics will not only engage members but also serve as catalysts for deeper reflection, sharing, and collective growth. Our aim is for attendees to leave the marathon meetings feeling invigorated and inspired, armed with newfound perspectives and tools to reinforce their commitment to recovery.

Our dedication extends beyond conceptualizing ideas; we're actively working on the execution phase. We understand the importance of flawless planning and seamless execution to ensure that the marathon meetings exceed expectations and leave a lasting impact on everyone who participates.

In conclusion, our committee is committed to making the marathon meetings at the 2025 World Convention a highlight—an experience that attendees eagerly look forward to. We invite you all to join us on this journey of transformation and empowerment through meaningful discussions and shared insights.

Thank you for your unwavering support, and we can't wait to share these extraordinary marathon meetings with you at the convention!
