OUR HEALTH, OUR WELLNESS...ADVOCATING FOR A HEALTHIER TOMORROW!!!

Thank you for joining Black Health Matters (BHM) for our HARLEM WEEK 2026 Health Summit & Expo! BHM is committed to raising awareness of chronic diseases that plague our community. We want you to know, and understand, the risk factors and treatment options so you can feel empowered on your health journey. BHM does this by bringing educational programs like our award-winning health summits and expos directly to you, because, the truth is, information is power!

The United States has the most advanced medical technology in the world and spends more on healthcare than any other country. Yet the health outcomes of Black and Hispanic Americans are, by several measures, on par with those of people living in far poorer nations. The good news is that we can be empowered to fight for better healthcare and health outcomes for ourselves and our families.

You are here today because you are inspired. You are taking steps that will separate you from so many who are being defeated by the healthcare system in the United States. You can break it down to three things:

1. The clarity of the vision that you desire and deserve to be healthy. 2. The courage of your conviction to seek the best care possible. 3. The ability to effectively work toward these goals.

Taking care of ourselves, over a lifetime, requires that we adopt a holistic approach with healthy eating habits and preventative care. Starting early can ensure a healthier life, and it's never too late to start! Use the BHM Summits and Expos to help celebrate your journey to wellness. Dance and dine with us, speak with healthcare professionals and health navigators, listen to informative presentations, and be screened for the chronic conditions that impact us most.

You've made a commitment to living your best life. Continue to be the change that you want to see, because #YourHealthMatters.

THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK, NY 10007

August 13, 2026

Dear Friends:

It gives me great pleasure to welcome everyone as Black Health Matters (BHM) hosts its 2026 Harlem Week Health Summit and Expo.

Health care is a human right, and it is the responsibility of municipal government to make it easier for New Yorkers to receive the care they deserve. That is why our Administration has invested in overdose prevention measures and two youth mental health clinics. Through its website, BHM promotes medical equity by providing Black patients who have faced barriers to care with helpful information backed by evidence-based research. It also develops strong community partnerships and hosts educational events. Today's conference offers a series of free screenings and features presentations from clinicians, patients, and advocates about the issues that matter most to this historically underserved population, such as opioid misuse awareness and Narcan training and discussions around behavioral wellness. On this occasion, I applaud this wonderful initiative for its dedication to accessibility, empowerment, and inclusivity for all.

On behalf of the City of New York, please accept my best wishes for an enlightening event and continued success.

Sincerely,

Zohran Kwame Mamdani
Mayor

HARLEM WEEK 2026

AGENDA & EVENT PROGRAM

Black Health Matters (BHM) is a leading communications company that provides inclusive health and wellness information that is rooted in medical expertise to the Black and Brown community. How do we do it? We partner and collaborate directly with top physicians, community advocates and health companies to host free virtual events and share articles to help raise awareness on risk factors and chronic diseases that disproportionately impact Black and Brown communities. Our ultimate goal is to help communities of color cut through the confusion and feel empowered on their health journey.

Now more than ever, it's important to bring topics related to our healthcare that have been historically disregarded to the forefront. That's why we're so excited to invite you to our BHM HARLEM WEEK 2026 Health Summit & Expo (it's in person and streamed live!) with the aim of helping you take better care of yourself, your loved ones, and your community.

SUMMIT OBJECTIVES

- 1 Feature informative yet dynamic presentations and conversations on relevant health conditions and diseases, with world class healthcare professionals that focus specifically on the medical disparities that affect Black & Brown Americans.
- 2 Provide a safe space for medically underserved individuals to voice their opinions, concerns, experiences and act as a catalyst for radical change within health focused spaces.
- 3 Empower patients, advocates and caregivers by providing them with the most up-to-date information on various chronic conditions - including treatment options and clinical trials - so they will better understand how to identify risk factors that directly impact them and their community.
- 4 Amplify the reach of this rich educational information by providing access to the content (videos, articles, etc.) on all platforms post-Summit.

This session highlights the urgent need to address APOL1-mediated kidney disease (AMKD)—a rapidly progressing form of chronic kidney disease (CKD) that disproportionately affects young people of West African ancestry, particularly African Americans. Despite the significant burden of AMKD, awareness remains low, and affected populations have historically been underserved in clinical research and therapeutic development.

SPEAK UP

Fatty liver, type 2 diabetes, obesity, high blood pressure, high triglycerides (a type of fat), or low HDL (good cholesterol) could mean you're at risk for a serious liver disease called MASH.

SPEAK LOUD

MASH, formerly NASH, is sometimes referred to as a "silent" disease because it often presents with symptoms that can be linked to many other conditions, or even be absent. Advanced stages of MASH come with potential complications that are anything but quiet, like liver cancer or liver failure due to cirrhosis.

HDL=high-density lipoprotein; MASH=metabolic dysfunction-associated steatohepatitis; NASH=nonalcoholic steatohepatitis.

Learn to

SPEAK L!VER

Screening can expose MASH.

If you're living with risk factors, ask your doctor about getting screened for MASH.

SPEAK NOW

Over time, MASH can potentially lead to serious and life-threatening consequences. Fortunately, early diagnosis and management can help prevent serious outcomes.
