"We are not making this up!
Coaching has been called out of us
as this is our turn to serve the Universe!"
Meg Wheatley, ICF Global Conference in 2001, Chicago

Today, we will:
Distinguish knowledge from wisdom
Explore desire and fear around AI in dialogue
Consider a path of integration and harmony – the both/and consciousness as part of this equation.

Let's Play in Dialog

Break Out in Pairs: 6 minutes

What is your greatest hope, love, and fear about AI in coaching?
Set an intention - what is your desire as we learn together?

"I believe that rehumanizing work at this time in our collective evolution is why coaching was called out of us as a technology of development. For many coaches, this is more than a profession. We, too, had to go through a personal transformation to call our spirits back. We, too, had to reawaken and remember to become wholly who we are so we could guide others to play a bigger game." – DJ Mitsch

Coaching & Three Levels of Consciousness

What "They" Want	What "I" Want	What Wants "Me"
Organization /Family of Origin	Career Advancement - New Lifestyle	Purpose/Passion/Calling
Representation	Individuation	Symbolic - Significance
Either/Or Language	Neither/Nor Language	Both/And Language
Need - what others really need or want from me	Choice – what I really, really, really want	Compassion – Acceptance and allowing my service to something bigger

Start by considering ...

What do you want for all others?

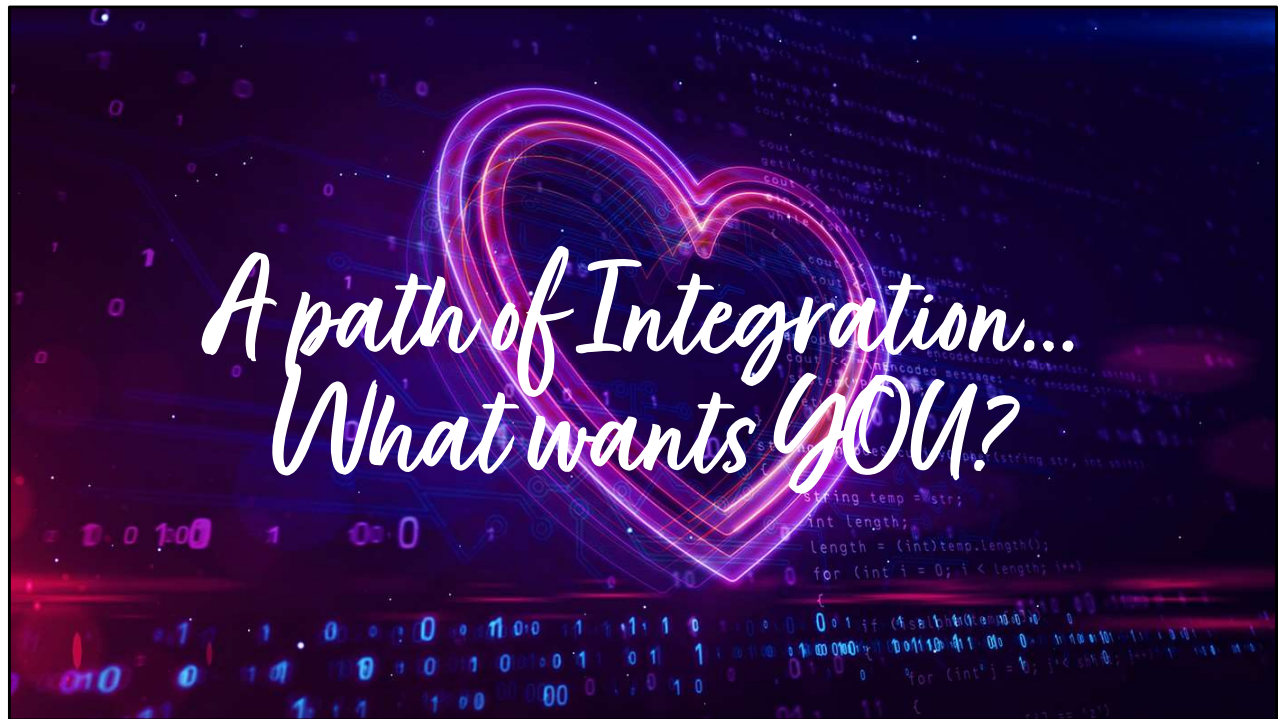

That everyone has enough language – Thomas Leonard

That coaching becomes synonymous with Love – Julio Olalla

That we realize our greatest gift in service to others – DJ Mitsch

A coaching conversation is an all-access pass to integrating heart and soul into our thinking. When we disrupt current patterns, we are able to see more clearly what is below the surface... It is often a reckoning, a bringing forward of what is rolling around in our mind's eye...

Mind Map: Your Personal AI Journey

Start by considering ... What wants YOU... What do you want for all others?

"In a world fluent in the language of AI, how will you ensure that the human story—your story—is heard?"
