- As a guide Raven's Recruitment have highlighted the relevant information for the sessions that may be included in your personal CPD plan/record.
- In addition to the information provided by Raven's Recruitment, you must include in your personal CPD plan/record:
 - The relevant competencies (standards and/or elements and/or performance criteria) from the competency standards framework.
 - A reflection on how the activity has impacted your practice.
- Your CPD records should include your CPD plan, as well as documents reviewed which helped you to identify your learning needs.

Disclaimer

- Raven's Recruitment will not be issuing CPD certificates, or certificates of attendance.
- Registration to the event does not provide evidence of attendance for CPD requirements, it is the responsibility of the individual pharmacist to document their attendance via their individual CPD plan/record.
- It is the responsibility of the individual pharmacist to assess non-accredited activities for quality, suitability, and relevance and to determine whether individual learning needs are likely to be addressed by undertaking these activities.
- After a CPD activity has been undertaken, you should consider whether/how the activity has impacted your practice (this should also be documented on your CPD plan).
- If the activity did not address your CPD needs and will not impact your practice, it cannot be counted as CPD and contribute towards you meeting the requirements of the CPD standard.
