ABOUT EVSSAR

The European Veterinary Society for Small Animal Reproduction has been established with the objective to further scientific and clinical progress in veterinary and comparative companion animal reproduction, pediatrics and neonatology. It's an international nonprofit organization.

Currently, EVSSAR has 210 members from European and non-EU countries. Even though the emphasis is on reproduction of companion animals, other species such as laboratory animals, exotics and wild or zoo species are also considered as species of interest to the Society.

The means by which the EVSSAR strives to reach these objectives are :

- by encouraging, promoting and facilitating knowledge and skills related to companion animals and related species.
- by encouraging further and post-academic education, in collaboration with the ECAR and other National and International societies.
- by encouraging collaboration and discussion bridging the gap between scientists and veterinary practitioners.
- by promoting and influencing legislative aspects of small animal reproduction.
- by promoting the increase of the overall knowledge in the field of small animal reproduction.
- by supporting healthy breeding, thus promoting animal health and welfare.

ALFÂNDEGA CONGRESS CENTER PORTO

Situated in the heart of the city of Porto, on the banks of the River Douro, the Alfândega Porto Congress Centre surprises with its emblematic architecture, combining tradition and modernity.

In 1822, António José Borges, a merchant from Porto, presented six plans for an urban solution for a new custom house. This magnificent neoclassical building was renovated in the 1990s by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Eduardo Souto de Moura, who emphasised its unique architecture in the urban landscape.

It has been voted «Best Convention Centre in Portugal» four years in a row and «Best Meeting and Convention Centre in Europe» in 2014, 2015 and 2017, offering unique conditions in the local, national and international scenario.
