

ICT Acceptable Usage Policy

This ICT Acceptable Usage Policy (“Policy”) sets forth the general guidelines and acceptable and prohibited uses of the intersectionalidentities.vfairs.com website (“Website”) and any of its related products and services (collectively, “Services”). This Policy is a legally binding agreement between you (“User”, “you” or “your”) and this Website operator (“Operator”, “we”, “us” or “our”). By accessing and using the Services, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by the terms of this Agreement. If you are entering into this Agreement on behalf of a business or other legal entity, you represent that you have the authority to bind such entity to this Agreement, in which case the terms “User”, “you” or “your” shall refer to such entity. If you do not have such authority, or if you do not agree with the terms of this Agreement, you must not accept this Agreement and may not access and use the Services. You acknowledge that this Agreement is a contract between you and the Operator, even though it is electronic and is not physically signed by you, and it governs your use of the Services.

1. Prohibited activities and uses

You may not use the Services to publish content or engage in activity that is illegal under applicable law, that is harmful to others, or that would subject us to liability, including, without limitation, in connection with any of the following, each of which is prohibited under this Policy:

- i. Distributing malware or other malicious code.
- ii. Disclosing sensitive personal information about others.
- iii. Collecting, or attempting to collect, personal information about third parties without their knowledge or consent.
- iv. Distributing pornography or adult related content.
- v. Promoting or facilitating prostitution or any escort services.
- vi. Hosting, distributing or linking to child pornography or content that is harmful to minors.
- vii. Promoting or facilitating gambling, violence, terrorist activities or selling weapons or ammunition.
- viii. Engaging in the unlawful distribution of controlled substances, drug contraband or prescription medications.
- ix. Managing payment aggregators or facilitators such as processing payments on behalf of other businesses or charities.
- x. Facilitating pyramid schemes or other models intended to seek payments from public actors.
- xi. Threatening harm to persons or property or otherwise harassing behaviour.
- xii. Infringing the intellectual property or other proprietary rights of others.
- xiii. Facilitating, aiding, or encouraging any of the above activities through the Services.

2. System abuse

Any User in violation of the Services security is subject to criminal and civil liability, as well as immediate account termination. Examples include, but are not limited to the following:

- i. Use or distribution of tools designed for compromising security of the Services.

- ii. Intentionally or negligently transmitting files containing a computer virus or corrupted data.
 - iii. Accessing another network without permission, including to probe or scan for vulnerabilities or breach security or authentication measures.
 - iv. Unauthorized scanning or monitoring of data on any network or system without proper authorization of the owner of the system or network.

3. Service resources

You may not consume excessive amounts of the resources of the Services or use the Services in any way which results in performance issues or which interrupts the Services for other Users. Prohibited activities that contribute to excessive use, include without limitation:

- i. Deliberate attempts to overload the Services and broadcast attacks (i.e. denial of service attacks).
- ii. Engaging in any other activities that degrade the usability and performance of the Services.

4. Defamation and objectionable content

We value the freedom of expression and encourage Users to be respectful with the content they post. We are not a publisher of User content and are not in a position to investigate the veracity of individual defamation claims or to determine whether certain material, which we may find objectionable, should be censored. However, we reserve the right to moderate, disable or remove any content to prevent harm to others or to us or the Services, as determined in our sole discretion.

5. Copyrighted content

Copyrighted material must not be published via the Services without the explicit permission of the copyright owner or a person explicitly authorized to give such permission by the copyright owner. Upon receipt of a claim for copyright infringement, or a notice of such violation, we may, at our discretion, run an investigation and, upon confirmation, may remove the infringing material from the Services. We may terminate the Service of Users with repeated copyright infringements. Further procedures may be carried out if necessary. We will assume no liability to any User of the Services for the removal of any such material. If you believe your copyright is being infringed by a person or persons using the Services, please get in touch with us to report copyright infringement.

6. Security

You take full responsibility for maintaining reasonable security precautions for your account. You are responsible for protecting and updating any login account provided to you for the Services. You must protect the confidentiality of your login details, and you should change your password periodically.

7. Enforcement

We reserve our right to be the sole arbiter in determining the seriousness of each infringement and to immediately take corrective actions, including but not limited to:

- i. Suspending or terminating your Service with or without notice upon any violation of this Policy. Any violations may also result in the immediate suspension or termination of your account.
- ii. Disabling or removing any content which is prohibited by this Policy, including to prevent harm to others or to us or the Services, as determined by us in our sole discretion.
- iii. Reporting violations to law enforcement as determined by us in our sole discretion.
- iv. A failure to respond to an email from our abuse team within 2 days, or as otherwise specified in the communication to you, may result in the suspension or termination of your account.

Suspended and terminated User accounts due to violations will not be re-activated.

Nothing contained in this Policy shall be construed to limit our actions or remedies in any way with respect to any of the prohibited activities. In addition, we reserve at all times all rights and remedies available to us with respect to such activities at law or in equity.

8. Reporting violations

If you have discovered and would like to report a violation of this Policy, please contact us immediately. We will investigate the situation and provide you with full assistance.

9. Changes and amendments

We reserve the right to modify this Policy or its terms relating to the Services at any time, effective upon posting of an updated version of this Policy on the Services. When we do, we will send you an email to notify you. Continued use of the Services after any such changes shall constitute your consent to such changes.

10. Acceptance of this policy

You acknowledge that you have read this Policy and agree to all its terms and conditions. By accessing and using the Services you agree to be bound by this Policy. If you do not agree to abide by the terms of this Policy, you are not authorized to access or use the Services.

11. Contacting us

If you would like to contact us to understand more about this Policy or wish to contact us concerning any matter relating to it, you may send an email to info@reframingautism.org.au.
