Webinar: No More Shovels: An Innovative Solution for Pothole Patching

Description: If you surveyed your city population about their road conditions, there's a good chance that they would mention potholes as being the biggest nuisance. Fixing potholes is no easy task and usually involves shutting down lanes for an extended period of time while multiple workers fill them by hand. Join this webinar to learn about an innovative solution: The Python 5000+. This self-propelled machine allows for a single user to quickly fix potholes and continuous cracks from the safety of the cab, in nearly all weather conditions.
