

Speaker Profile

2021 | 30
years

biochemistry

CYBER Celebration

Nathan Gray

Science & Technical Director, Collagen Stewardship Alliance

Nathan Gray

More about Nathan Gray's Session:

This session will outline some of the core science and trends driving and increased demand for collagen and collagen boosters in the global marketplace. Taking you from the science of 'Collagen 101', through some of the core trends and market drivers, and into some of the major opportunities and challenges for the future. Key talking points include:

- Collagen 101. Learn more about the structure, biological need and processes of collagen
- Gain an understanding of the core market drivers in the collagen boom
- Understand new technical developments that are changing the market, and making collagen easier than ever to formulate with
- Find out more about the threats and opportunities to the category – and how responsible actors are dealing with them