

Terms of use

ECC Virtual Congress is a respectful environment and we ask that all visitors, whether you are attending with a paid ticket or have gained free entry to be mindful of other guests, to ensure everyone has the best experience possible.

If we deem you are acting inappropriately, which includes (but is not limited to); foul language; inappropriate comments; harassment; abuse of the system; abuse of the competition; we reserve the right to remove your access to ECC Virtual Congress with no refund given. We will provide users one warning before we take this action, except in exceptional circumstances.

All activity on the platform is recorded, including, but not limited to, private chat rooms, and the ECC Virtual Congress events team reserve the right to access any interactions with the system, should we be concerned about your behaviour.

When using the following functions, please follow the below terms of use:

Chat

Including, but not limited to, 'chat' conversations with other delegates, conversations with exhibitors and public chat rooms on exhibition stands.

- Avoid foul language.
- Avoid speaking ill of other guests, exhibitors or events staff.

Live sessions

- Avoid foul language, whether verbal while asking questions, or typed in the session chat or Q&A functions.
- Avoid speaking ill of other guests, exhibitors or events staff.

Competitions

- Follow the terms & conditions of all competitions
- Avoid excessive use of public chat rooms or private chat conversations to gain additional points in the leaderboard competition.