QUANTITY SURVEYING RESEARCH CONFERENCE 2021

THE QUANTITY SURVEYING PROFESSION

NO MORE BUSINESS AS USUAL

VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

10 NOVEMBER 2021

NELSON MANDELA UNIVERSITY

THE SA COUNCIL FOR THE QUANTITY SURVEYING PROFESSION
Established in terms of the Quantity Surveying Profession Act 2000 (Act No 49 of 2000)

The Annual South African Council for the Quantity Surveying Profession (SACQSP) Research Conference provides an internationally endorsed forum for academics, post-graduate researchers and practitioners to address and debate the key challenges affecting not only the quantity surveying profession, but all built environment professions.

The SACQSP has long understood the importance of research for the growth and sustainability of the profession. This Council has, and will continue to provide a platform for debate and the sharing of knowledge by quantity surveyors, other built environment professionals and academics in the form of an annual research conference.

The Nelson Mandela University's Quantity Surveying Department has been selected to be the event and content organisers of the 12th Research Conference. Nelson Mandela University has placed sustainability high on its list of priorities, to remain relevant and continue to be leaders in our field. The theme of "The Quantity Surveying Profession: No more business as usual" has been chosen for this Quantity Surveying Research Conference.

THEME EXPLANATION

The dwindling number of cranes interspersed across our South African skyline speaks to the reality of the poor economic growth we are experiencing in the construction industry. We have fallen down a slippery slope exacerbated by a relentless, unyielding and fast-paced business environment. This monumental shift requires a change in leadership perception. Change is not easy, but the biggest threat is a business person fixated on past triumphs and traditional thinking. It is no longer business as usual. These words remind us that change is difficult. It is to "suffer", but it is also to emerge "richer", more valuable. It is not about losing the essence of who we are, but rather adding to it in significant, forward-focused ways."
