1. When you slip up,
correct yourself
briefly and move on

2. When someone corrects you, say “thank you”

and just move on swiftly

3. Get in the habit of interrupting people with a quick correction

yes, every time

It sets a good precedent, lifts some burden off trans people, and makes it easier to catch yourself

4. For every time you get it wrong, do it right 3 times like saying 3 compliments

(it doesn't have to be aloud)

5. Consider meeting with someone to practice

Go for coffee with a mutual friend and correct each other until you get it

6. Don't make anyone feel like a burden for having pronouns you're struggling with

do not say
"oh it's just really hard"

Thank you for sharing your authentic self with me, I'm learning and I really appreciate it

7. Don't make them alleviate your guilt

If you get it wrong do not apologise profusely, because that puts the other person in the position of having to say it's ok, and putting their own feelings aside to make you feel better / stop apologising
