

Integrative Oncology - Taming the Beast, Challenges & Opportunities

-Dr Vijaendreh Subramaniam

As a Gynae-Oncologist for almost 25 years, and with the benefit of more than 10 years managing cancers with an integrative approach, this presentation hopes to give a balanced approach to the most effective and efficient ways to tame the cancer Beast. Taming the Cancer beast has profound challenges but it also brings exciting opportunities to re-shape our approaches. The integrative model promises to be the effective approach and this will be illustrated by a case series of palliative turned to curative outcomes. Treating cancer is a job best handled by an integrative oncologist with full understanding and access to the full range of treatments.
