

Exceptional Needs Today

A FREE RESOURCE

www.exceptionalneedstoday.com

SUBSCRIBE TODAY FOR FREE

AWARENESS. ACCEPTANCE. INCLUSION

Exceptional Needs Today is a FREE digital publication designed to educate and support families, caregivers, self-advocates, educators, and professionals. Subscribers receive FREE access to the latest news/research, guidance, therapies, personal accounts, as well as information on unique books and products. Our mission is to work together to promote awareness, acceptance, and inclusion while providing a voice for ALL people.

Exceptional Needs Today is funded entirely by partnerships and advertising.
Please consider becoming a SUPPORTER OF ALL VOICES. Contact us: editor@exceptionalneedstoday.com

Magazine publisher Amy KD Tobik is an award-winning editor with more than 30 years of publishing experience. After successfully producing an autism magazine for more than six years, Amy independently launched Exceptional Needs Today, a FREE resource. In 2021, Exceptional Needs Today received the Gold Award from the prestigious Mom's Choice Awards honoring excellence.

Amy is a graduate of Sweet Briar College in Virginia and her special interests include advocating for children with different abilities and education. She lives in the Carolinas with her husband, and they have two adult children. She is CEO of Lone Heron Publishing which publishes Exceptional Needs Today.